

SMALL TALK.

Kentucky corn, wheat, tobacco, mules, horses and hemp, have found no market there while the condition of things is so unsettled. The Southerner, uncertain of his labor and heavily taxed on what was his most profitable staple, is compelled to raise breadstuffs. His labor is limited to the mere necessities; the negro will not work steadily enough to assure him of a crop of cotton, and the farmer raises only to feed.

In consequence of this there is scarcity of grain in the market, which causes the price of that necessary staple. The Kentucky farmer, who buys his grain, has no market in the States for his corn. The political condition of the South in this manner works directly to the injury of the people of Kentucky.

We speak of this victory, therefore, in which negro suffrage has been condemned by the Northern people, as a great cause of triumph and congratulation. It defeats negro suffrage. We have reason to hope that the Southern States have been disgraced for the last time by the spectacle of negroes crowding to the polls, electing negroes and fanatics, and defeating white men. This election rights, and puts the white man in his true position of supremacy. With the political power, the negro no longer fosters in idleness and encouraged to expect some benefit without labor, the white can control his employees and arrange to have his work done more steadily; or as legislators, if the negro proves to be incorrigible, he can invite other and better labor.

It is, therefore, a sound, substantial cause of congratulation. The victory is one of incalculable and immediate importance, and this time the chicken crows for cause. It is his own barn-yard, from which he has driven the crows that prey upon his household, and chancier is upon his feathers, glistening wings, and cheer with resonant croak over the defeat of the min, owl, crow, and the whole Radical, negro, equality, robbing, destroying, plundering gang that have infested and laid waste the fairest portion of the Union.

We take the following from the New York World, of the 4th. The indications from other sources are to the same effect, and that the entire delegation will be excluded. There is the mortifying conclusion that all this humiliating subserviency by Mr. Beck and others will be treated with contempt. This is the result of the shameful act of rejecting Union Democrats. At some time in the past, the old South had a right to be in the national council, this selfish and wicked party for the mere purpose of revenge on "because they had been Union, defeated them, and thereby excluded nine Congressmen friendly to the South. It was an act of madness and atrocious wickedness. The same leaders who did this for the base purpose of getting some little office for themselves, would set the whole South plunged in ruin under the heel of Radicalism. The people of Kentucky can learn from this who their true friends and the friends of the South are.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House, and W. C. Thompson, of New Haven, of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

MR. G. C. CURRY.—Our authorized agent for the sale and delivery of the Democrat in Jeffersonville. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

IN COMMENDING the policy of suffering the issues involved in the war to lapse before others more imminent and important, we do not wish to be understood as submitting to the interpretation of the destruction Democracy of this State. Before we can accept this, we must learn that that party has ceased to provoke Union men. We don't mean more declarations, opposed by practical action, but an honest determination carried out to ignore the past.

As it is, we, the Union men, stand before the country as the sole defenders for our Union, the so-called Democracy of this State. Our prominent men, of unimpeachable Democracy and ability, have been defeated, and others subtilized whose only recommendation was that they condemned the war. The issue made in this State was between the North, or the Union, and the South, and the result of the last election was a condemnation of the former and approval of the latter.

For this, while this continues, we cannot ignore the issue; it is made and thrust upon us by others. It is true they say, if we will join with them, Union men shall not be proscribed, but, in fact, they said this before, and Union men did not join with them. Besides, to the closing scene of a play, or in the middle of the final operations, considerable numbers of persons rise to leave the house. They hasten to the door, and in their way, the door of the source is to others the audience, and apparently labor under an uneasy apprehension that all the cars and stages will depart for the night before they can reach the street. This annoyance is more noticeable this season than last in the crowded theaters; perhaps for the reason that American restlessness is increasing and good breeding falling off. No Frenchman thinks of departure from a theater till the curtain drops—the Frenchman being the only one that can learn from this who their true friends and the friends of the South are.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House, and W. C. Thompson, of New Haven, of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

Mr. Beck and others are to be condemned for their conduct in the case of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

IN COMMENDING the policy of suffering the issues involved in the war to lapse before others more imminent and important, we do not wish to be understood as submitting to the interpretation of the destruction Democracy of this State. Before we can accept this, we must learn that that party has ceased to provoke Union men. We don't mean more declarations, opposed by practical action, but an honest determination carried out to ignore the past.

AS IT IS, we, the Union men, stand before the country as the sole defenders for our Union, the so-called Democracy of this State. Our prominent men, of unimpeachable Democracy and ability, have been defeated, and others subtilized whose only recommendation was that they condemned the war. The issue made in this State was between the North, or the Union, and the South, and the result of the last election was a condemnation of the former and approval of the latter.

For this, while this continues, we cannot ignore the issue; it is made and thrust upon us by others. It is true they say, if we will join with them, Union men shall not be proscribed, but, in fact, they said this before, and Union men did not join with them. Besides, to the closing scene of a play, or in the middle of the final operations, considerable numbers of persons rise to leave the house. They hasten to the door, and in their way, the door of the source is to others the audience, and apparently labor under an uneasy apprehension that all the cars and stages will depart for the night before they can reach the street. This annoyance is more noticeable this season than last in the crowded theaters; perhaps for the reason that American restlessness is increasing and good breeding falling off. No Frenchman thinks of departure from a theater till the curtain drops—the Frenchman being the only one that can learn from this who their true friends and the friends of the South are.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House, and W. C. Thompson, of New Haven, of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

IN COMMENDING the policy of suffering the issues involved in the war to lapse before others more imminent and important, we do not wish to be understood as submitting to the interpretation of the destruction Democracy of this State. Before we can accept this, we must learn that that party has ceased to provoke Union men. We don't mean more declarations, opposed by practical action, but an honest determination carried out to ignore the past.

AS IT IS, we, the Union men, stand before the country as the sole defenders for our Union, the so-called Democracy of this State. Our prominent men, of unimpeachable Democracy and ability, have been defeated, and others subtilized whose only recommendation was that they condemned the war. The issue made in this State was between the North, or the Union, and the South, and the result of the last election was a condemnation of the former and approval of the latter.

For this, while this continues, we cannot ignore the issue; it is made and thrust upon us by others. It is true they say, if we will join with them, Union men shall not be proscribed, but, in fact, they said this before, and Union men did not join with them. Besides, to the closing scene of a play, or in the middle of the final operations, considerable numbers of persons rise to leave the house. They hasten to the door, and in their way, the door of the source is to others the audience, and apparently labor under an uneasy apprehension that all the cars and stages will depart for the night before they can reach the street. This annoyance is more noticeable this season than last in the crowded theaters; perhaps for the reason that American restlessness is increasing and good breeding falling off. No Frenchman thinks of departure from a theater till the curtain drops—the Frenchman being the only one that can learn from this who their true friends and the friends of the South are.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House, and W. C. Thompson, of New Haven, of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

IN COMMENDING the policy of suffering the issues involved in the war to lapse before others more imminent and important, we do not wish to be understood as submitting to the interpretation of the destruction Democracy of this State. Before we can accept this, we must learn that that party has ceased to provoke Union men. We don't mean more declarations, opposed by practical action, but an honest determination carried out to ignore the past.

AS IT IS, we, the Union men, stand before the country as the sole defenders for our Union, the so-called Democracy of this State. Our prominent men, of unimpeachable Democracy and ability, have been defeated, and others subtilized whose only recommendation was that they condemned the war. The issue made in this State was between the North, or the Union, and the South, and the result of the last election was a condemnation of the former and approval of the latter.

For this, while this continues, we cannot ignore the issue; it is made and thrust upon us by others. It is true they say, if we will join with them, Union men shall not be proscribed, but, in fact, they said this before, and Union men did not join with them. Besides, to the closing scene of a play, or in the middle of the final operations, considerable numbers of persons rise to leave the house. They hasten to the door, and in their way, the door of the source is to others the audience, and apparently labor under an uneasy apprehension that all the cars and stages will depart for the night before they can reach the street. This annoyance is more noticeable this season than last in the crowded theaters; perhaps for the reason that American restlessness is increasing and good breeding falling off. No Frenchman thinks of departure from a theater till the curtain drops—the Frenchman being the only one that can learn from this who their true friends and the friends of the South are.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House, and W. C. Thompson, of New Haven, of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

IN COMMENDING the policy of suffering the issues involved in the war to lapse before others more imminent and important, we do not wish to be understood as submitting to the interpretation of the destruction Democracy of this State. Before we can accept this, we must learn that that party has ceased to provoke Union men. We don't mean more declarations, opposed by practical action, but an honest determination carried out to ignore the past.

AS IT IS, we, the Union men, stand before the country as the sole defenders for our Union, the so-called Democracy of this State. Our prominent men, of unimpeachable Democracy and ability, have been defeated, and others subtilized whose only recommendation was that they condemned the war. The issue made in this State was between the North, or the Union, and the South, and the result of the last election was a condemnation of the former and approval of the latter.

For this, while this continues, we cannot ignore the issue; it is made and thrust upon us by others. It is true they say, if we will join with them, Union men shall not be proscribed, but, in fact, they said this before, and Union men did not join with them. Besides, to the closing scene of a play, or in the middle of the final operations, considerable numbers of persons rise to leave the house. They hasten to the door, and in their way, the door of the source is to others the audience, and apparently labor under an uneasy apprehension that all the cars and stages will depart for the night before they can reach the street. This annoyance is more noticeable this season than last in the crowded theaters; perhaps for the reason that American restlessness is increasing and good breeding falling off. No Frenchman thinks of departure from a theater till the curtain drops—the Frenchman being the only one that can learn from this who their true friends and the friends of the South are.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House, and W. C. Thompson, of New Haven, of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

IN COMMENDING the policy of suffering the issues involved in the war to lapse before others more imminent and important, we do not wish to be understood as submitting to the interpretation of the destruction Democracy of this State. Before we can accept this, we must learn that that party has ceased to provoke Union men. We don't mean more declarations, opposed by practical action, but an honest determination carried out to ignore the past.

AS IT IS, we, the Union men, stand before the country as the sole defenders for our Union, the so-called Democracy of this State. Our prominent men, of unimpeachable Democracy and ability, have been defeated, and others subtilized whose only recommendation was that they condemned the war. The issue made in this State was between the North, or the Union, and the South, and the result of the last election was a condemnation of the former and approval of the latter.

For this, while this continues, we cannot ignore the issue; it is made and thrust upon us by others. It is true they say, if we will join with them, Union men shall not be proscribed, but, in fact, they said this before, and Union men did not join with them. Besides, to the closing scene of a play, or in the middle of the final operations, considerable numbers of persons rise to leave the house. They hasten to the door, and in their way, the door of the source is to others the audience, and apparently labor under an uneasy apprehension that all the cars and stages will depart for the night before they can reach the street. This annoyance is more noticeable this season than last in the crowded theaters; perhaps for the reason that American restlessness is increasing and good breeding falling off. No Frenchman thinks of departure from a theater till the curtain drops—the Frenchman being the only one that can learn from this who their true friends and the friends of the South are.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House, and W. C. Thompson, of New Haven, of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

IN COMMENDING the policy of suffering the issues involved in the war to lapse before others more imminent and important, we do not wish to be understood as submitting to the interpretation of the destruction Democracy of this State. Before we can accept this, we must learn that that party has ceased to provoke Union men. We don't mean more declarations, opposed by practical action, but an honest determination carried out to ignore the past.

AS IT IS, we, the Union men, stand before the country as the sole defenders for our Union, the so-called Democracy of this State. Our prominent men, of unimpeachable Democracy and ability, have been defeated, and others subtilized whose only recommendation was that they condemned the war. The issue made in this State was between the North, or the Union, and the South, and the result of the last election was a condemnation of the former and approval of the latter.

For this, while this continues, we cannot ignore the issue; it is made and thrust upon us by others. It is true they say, if we will join with them, Union men shall not be proscribed, but, in fact, they said this before, and Union men did not join with them. Besides, to the closing scene of a play, or in the middle of the final operations, considerable numbers of persons rise to leave the house. They hasten to the door, and in their way, the door of the source is to others the audience, and apparently labor under an uneasy apprehension that all the cars and stages will depart for the night before they can reach the street. This annoyance is more noticeable this season than last in the crowded theaters; perhaps for the reason that American restlessness is increasing and good breeding falling off. No Frenchman thinks of departure from a theater till the curtain drops—the Frenchman being the only one that can learn from this who their true friends and the friends of the South are.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House, and W. C. Thompson, of New Haven, of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

IN COMMENDING the policy of suffering the issues involved in the war to lapse before others more imminent and important, we do not wish to be understood as submitting to the interpretation of the destruction Democracy of this State. Before we can accept this, we must learn that that party has ceased to provoke Union men. We don't mean more declarations, opposed by practical action, but an honest determination carried out to ignore the past.

AS IT IS, we, the Union men, stand before the country as the sole defenders for our Union, the so-called Democracy of this State. Our prominent men, of unimpeachable Democracy and ability, have been defeated, and others subtilized whose only recommendation was that they condemned the war. The issue made in this State was between the North, or the Union, and the South, and the result of the last election was a condemnation of the former and approval of the latter.

For this, while this continues, we cannot ignore the issue; it is made and thrust upon us by others. It is true they say, if we will join with them, Union men shall not be proscribed, but, in fact, they said this before, and Union men did not join with them. Besides, to the closing scene of a play, or in the middle of the final operations, considerable numbers of persons rise to leave the house. They hasten to the door, and in their way, the door of the source is to others the audience, and apparently labor under an uneasy apprehension that all the cars and stages will depart for the night before they can reach the street. This annoyance is more noticeable this season than last in the crowded theaters; perhaps for the reason that American restlessness is increasing and good breeding falling off. No Frenchman thinks of departure from a theater till the curtain drops—the Frenchman being the only one that can learn from this who their true friends and the friends of the South are.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House, and W. C. Thompson, of New Haven, of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

IN COMMENDING the policy of suffering the issues involved in the war to lapse before others more imminent and important, we do not wish to be understood as submitting to the interpretation of the destruction Democracy of this State. Before we can accept this, we must learn that that party has ceased to provoke Union men. We don't mean more declarations, opposed by practical action, but an honest determination carried out to ignore the past.

AS IT IS, we, the Union men, stand before the country as the sole defenders for our Union, the so-called Democracy of this State. Our prominent men, of unimpeachable Democracy and ability, have been defeated, and others subtilized whose only recommendation was that they condemned the war. The issue made in this State was between the North, or the Union, and the South, and the result of the last election was a condemnation of the former and approval of the latter.

For this, while this continues, we cannot ignore the issue; it is made and thrust upon us by others. It is true they say, if we will join with them, Union men shall not be proscribed, but, in fact, they said this before, and Union men did not join with them. Besides, to the closing scene of a play, or in the middle of the final operations, considerable numbers of persons rise to leave the house. They hasten to the door, and in their way, the door of the source is to others the audience, and apparently labor under an uneasy apprehension that all the cars and stages will depart for the night before they can reach the street. This annoyance is more noticeable this season than last in the crowded theaters; perhaps for the reason that American restlessness is increasing and good breeding falling off. No Frenchman thinks of departure from a theater till the curtain drops—the Frenchman being the only one that can learn from this who their true friends and the friends of the South are.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—N. G. Ordway, Sergeant-at-arms of the House, and W. C. Thompson, of New Haven, of the so-called Democracy of this State. Our solider will please call on Mr. Curry for any information in regard to Mr. Any advertisement or job work wanted by the citizens of Jeffersonville, will be promptly attended to.

IN COMMENDING the policy of suffering the issues involved in the war to lapse before others more imminent and important, we do not wish to be understood as submitting to the interpretation of the destruction Democracy of this State. Before we can accept this, we must learn that that party has ceased to provoke Union men. We don't mean more declarations, opposed by practical action, but an honest determination carried out to ignore the past.

AS IT IS, we, the Union men, stand before the country as the sole defenders for our Union, the so-called Democracy of this State. Our prominent men, of unimpeachable Democracy and ability, have been defeated, and others subtilized whose only recommendation was that they condemned the war. The issue made in this State was between the North, or the Union, and the South, and the result of the last election was a condemnation of the former and approval of the latter.

For this, while this continues, we cannot ignore the issue; it is made and thrust upon us by others. It is true they say, if we will join with them, Union men shall not be pros

BUSINESS DIRECT'RY

Business Cards will be inserted in the columns at the rates of 10c per line, 50c per card.
A. MILLER, COOKER, 100-102—Lancaster Foundry and Manufacturing, southeast corner Main and Ninth streets.
A. L. RAYBUT & CO.—Commercial Merchants, 100-102 Main street, Third and Jefferson.
B. BOUCHE, CHANJ.—Tea Coffee, Spices, and Mustard Mills, come Sixth and Gratzow's, 100-102 Main street, east and west.
C. G. & H. CO.—Importers and Manufacturers of Soddy Materials, Pianos, Seats, Chairs, 25 Main street, east and west.
CHEMISTRIES AND GARDENS—Designed and laid out by R. B. GEDDIE, Chemist, King's, 100-102 Main street.
L. L. RADWAY & CO.—Commercial Merchants, 100-102 Main street, N. W. Marshall, and Company, 100-102 Main and Market.
CARPENTERS AND TUGGERS—AMONG—
COMMISSIONER OF FEES—For all the States and Notary Publics, Office 16 Jefferson street, between Main and Market.
CHURCHILL, WILLIAM—Dealer in Paper and Gunpowder, 200 south Main street, between Second and Third streets.
C. H. GOODMAN—Importers and dealers in Watches, Jewelry, Diamonds, Silver and Plate, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
DAVIS, J. M. & CO.—Commission Merchants, 100-102 Main street, N. W. Marshall, and Company, 100-102 Main and Market.
D. R. COOK—Book and Job Printing House, Green street, near Postoffice.
D. R. MARKHORN & CO.—Com. Merchants, and C. B. St. John, 100-102 Main street.
FLETCHER & JENKINS—Dealers in Wine, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
G. KERBER & CO.—Wholesale Grocers and Commission Merchants, 100-102 Main street.
GREEN & GREEN—Hosiery and Furnishings, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
H. HOLLINGWORTH & J. B. JOHNSON—Retailers, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
H. HOPE WOOLLES MILL—J. W. STONE & CO.—Manufacturers of Wool, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
H. A. HOWSTWELL—Attorney at Law, 100-102 Main street, near Postoffice.
J. S. IRVING—Spring—RED—NOT—TOP—
J. S. IRVING—Third street.
J. S. IRVING—Dealer in Books, Shoes, Galler, James & Co., dealers in Books, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
JAMES THOS. & CO.—Successors to Fults, James & Co., dealers in Books, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
KING & OWEN—Importers, wholesalers, and manufacturers of all kinds of Metallic Metal Goods and Cases, and manufacturers of Furniture, Case Goods, and leather Goods, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
KENNEDY, JAS.—Attorney at Law, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
KENNEDY, JAS. & IRWIN—Coast Dealers, No. 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
LITROW, J. S. & CO.—Manufacturers of Wires, northward corner of Main and Third streets.
MILLER, R.—Manufacturers of Books, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
MORTON, JOHN, & CO.—Publishers, Booksellers, Stationers, Books and Job Printers, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
MORRILL, J. W. & CO.—Manufacturers of Soddy Materials, Books and Trunks, and Binders, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
MURKIN, A.—Wholesale and retail dealer in Hardware, No. 100-102 Main street.
M. P. PATRICK & WOOD—Architects, No. 100-102 Main street.
NEWCOMBE, BUCHANAN & CO.—Wholesale Grocers and Commission Merchants, No. 100-102 Main street.
PATTON & RAY—Commission Merchants and General Importers, No. 100-102 Main street.
POGGER, A. G. & SON—House Furnishing Importers, 100-102 Main street.
PIECES—Ground and Upward, Electric Vest, Powder, J. C. BOUCHE, cor. Sixth and Grayson.
PROFESSOR & MANDEVILLE—Fine Clothing Goods, come Second and Main streets.
SCOTT, DAVISON & CO.—Manufacturers and Importers of Books, 100-102 Main street, between Second and Third streets.
SCOTT, DAVISON & CO.—Wholesale Fancy and Variety Goods, No. 100-102 Main street.
WALTON & BRO.—Importers of China, Glass, Furnishing Goods, 100-102 Main, Fifth and Fifth.
WILSON, PETER, & CO.—Wholesale Drug and Soda Works, corner Fifth and Main streets.
W. H. WATSON & CO.—Wholesale and Retail Furnishing Goods, 100-102 Main street.
W. H. WATSON & CO.—Furniture—EX-POKUM—Best brands Cigars and Tobacco.

A N O B L E L O R D O N H I S T R A V E L S .

He Flatters President Johnson—His Wife Quizzes the Great American Nation.

The following correspondence between Earl Russell and his son is published in the Nottingham (Eng.) Journal, of Oct. 4: FROM EARL RUSSELL TO LORD AMERLY.—NOTTINGHAM PLACE, August 30, 1867.

MY DEAR AMERLY.—I have written to you now just in time to catch to-day's mail, and in the hope that it may reach you before you start for Niagara.

I am sending Adam to-day.

He wishes you to see Johnson, as I think he is flattered by such attention.

Adams also tells me that you are a popular and well-liked member of the Foreign Service.

If you should see Seward you can sound him out to find what he thinks about the change at the Foreign office, and if you can get him to speak about the Alabama claims, then you have no news worth naming with respect to your constituents.

I understand you are as popular as ever, although you are not in the public eye, and I am shocked with your views respecting the church establishment; but, with ordinary good management, I think you will be a success.

Statesmen like yourself must learn to manage democracies.

Now is the time to return, and you will be a good boy, your affectionate father.

RUSSELL.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, November 7, 1867, at 10 o'clock, two fine Carriage Horses, one Boston, and a large elegant lot of new and second-hand Furniture, Carpets, &c., at our auction room.

THURSDAY MORNING, November 8, 1867, at 10 o'clock, sale of Furniture, Books, Shoes, Clothing, Dogs, Hosiery, Household Goods, &c., at our auction room.

THURSDAY MORNING, November 9, 1867, at 10 o'clock, regular sale of Furniture at our auction room.

COUGHS, BRONCHITIS, AND CON-

SUMPTION cured by ALLEN'S LUNG

BALSAM, not 4w

BLANKETS & COMFORTS.

The largest and best assortment of blankets and comforts in the city at

HENRY WEIMHOFF'S,

No. 60 Main street, between Second and Third, nos. 60-63

CLOAKINGS.

Do you wish to save money? If so, go to Morris Levi's and buy some Cloaking Cloths. He will furnish the newest Styles and Patterns, of his Latest Styles of Goods, and make them up. He will sell all your Buttons and Trimmings at lowest wholesale prices.

Don't forget the place.

MORRIS LEVI,

No. 114 Market, between Third and Fourth streets.

STILL COMING IN.

Opera Cloaks, made to order, at

M. ARON'S,

112 Market, between 3d and 4th,

nos. 65

A full assortment of Children's and Misses' Cloaks, from $2 to 50 up,

M. ARON'S,

112 Market, between 3d and 4th,

nos. 65

FURS! FURS! FURS!!!

Cold weather is at hand, and

I will open on Monday next a large stock of Fitch, Mink, Sable, and all kinds of Furs, for Ladies and Misses, which will be sold as low as the lowest. Call and see them at

MORRIS LEVI'S,

No. 111 Market, between Third and Fourth streets.

GRAND OPENING OF CLOAKS

—AT—

I. DINGFELDER'S.

Fourth street, bet. Market and Jefferson,

the best.

The best Lyons Silk Cloaking

Velvet, at

M. ARON'S,

112 Market, between 3d and 4th,

nos. 65

FOR ELEGANT BONNETS.

WE have for sale by the barrel, half barrel, or half barrel, of various kinds of

Woolens, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and Saturday, 10-12 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Distilled Water.

A pure article of distilled water we can always have in large & small quantity at the KEN-

TYSON & CO. COMPANY, No. 29 Main street.

LEXINGTON AND FRANKFORT RAILROAD.

Arrived at Lexington, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at New Orleans, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Jeffersonville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Louisville, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

Arrived at Frankfort, 100 A.M., 23 P.M.,

